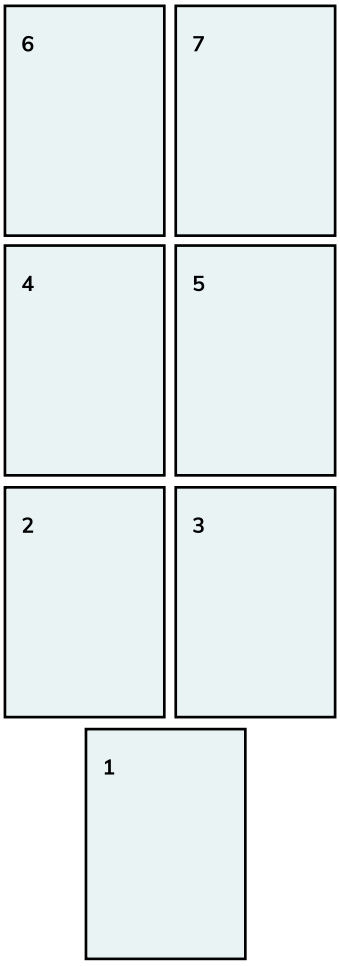
TAROT CHEAT SHEET

split decision spread

The split decision spread is designed for those moments when you're faced with a difficult decision and feel stuck between two options. You may feel as though you're blindfolded, unable to clearly see which direction to take. This spread helps you explore the choices in front of you, understand the emotions and logic behind them, and discover the hidden factors that can guide you toward a resolution.

1. Your current position: This card reflects where you stand right now—why you're feeling torn between choices and what's causing you to feel stuck.
2. What your heart wants: This card shows the emotional pull of one option, highlighting your desires, feelings, and instincts.
3. What your mind advises: This card represents the logical side of the other option, pointing out the rational and practical considerations.
4. Hidden influences: This card reveals any unseen factors that are affecting your decision. These could be external influences or inner fears and beliefs that you might not be fully aware of.
5. What will help you make a choice: This card offers guidance on how to break the stalemate. It shows what you need to focus on or consider in order to move forward confidently.
6. Outcome if you trust your heart: This card reveals what may happen if you follow the emotional path—what this decision will lead to and how it will impact you emotionally.
7. Outcome if you trust your mind: This card shows the outcome of choosing the logical path and how it will affect you in practical terms.



When you find yourself stuck between two difficult choices, the split decision spread helps you explore both paths. It offers insight into the emotional and logical sides of the situation, helping you find balance and clarity. By reflecting on the hidden influences and seeking guidance on what will help you choose, this spread supports you in making a confident decision. Whether you decide to follow your heart or your mind, this spread will give you the insight to make an empowered choice.